Executive Collaboration Board

Executive Collaboration Board (ECB) is a consulting committee within the CB composed of two representatives from the CB for each of the participating middleware consortia (ARC, gLite and UNICORE). The ECB represents the CB in all the situations where a full participation of all beneficiaries is not required and a faster decisional process is necessary to assist the PD in short-term or urgent matters, mainly on non-contractual issues concerning the relationships among the Middleware Consortia. The ECB is also the first escalation step in the resolution of grave technical disagreements between the Project Director and other members of the project.

ECB chair is rotated, with each middleware consortium taking turns.
